

Name	ELEVENS SELVRAPPORT/STUDENT'S SELF-REPORT
Purpose:	To examine self-perception of individual students who have difficulties at school
Short description:	The student's self-report is a research material that can be used as a basis for a conversation with the student about his/her experience of his/her school situation both in general and in more specific areas. At the same time, the self-report gives an insight into how the student considers himself in relation to the school's demands and opportunities
Academic area/skills:	Students' social and emotional situation, self-perception, self-assessment
Target group:	Schoolchildren
Survey method:	Individual
Standardization:	No
Adapted/non-adapted to Norwegian conditions:	Norwegian edition
Published:	1999
Author:	L. Christiansen, B. Jensen, E. Westerstråhle
User groups/user qualifications:	Teachers with special education and PP advisors